FOOTNOTES

1. Use footnotes (placed at the bottom [foot] of the page), and not endnotes (which go at the end of the paper). These footnotes are only placed on this bibliography page to save paper. Your bibliography page should not have footnotes on it.
2. Footnotes should be indented¹ and double-spaced from each other.
3. When you quote an author a second time, you only need to identify his last name and the page number.² However, if you use two works by the same author, the second time you refer to a work you must also include the title of the book along with the author's last name and page number.³
4. If you have questions about other footnote formats (magazines, encyclopedias, reference works), please consult a grammar book⁴ from the library or from one of the faculty members.
